Dear Parents and Caregivers,

We hope you and your children enjoyed Book Week this year!

It was great to see how our love of books has united our KJS community, with everyone participating in all of our whole school activities.

Although the main Book Week events have ended, such as Author Visits, Book Fair, Book Dress Up Day, and Book Parade, we will continue with Mother Tongue (Home Language) storytelling in library class and have our Years 1-3 and Years 4-6 activity page open for the month.

Some thank you's are in order, and we wanted to recognize everyone who has helped us to make this Book week so successful and fun.

- Teachers and staff - thank you for helping with all the content for Book Week this year (Who's behind the book, reading photos, mystery readers), for participating in all the Book Week activities with your classes, and for the special video to students. - Student council and Ms. Bailey - thank you for organizing such an amazing virtual assembly for us today. Click here to see their wonderful recording;
- Information and Communications Technology (ICT) Team - thank you for making sure all the technology runs smoothly for the author visits, book parade, taking daily photos;
- Office Team - thank you for coordinating with Book Fair suppliers, facilitating all the increased traffic to 4th floor, ensuring everyone was safe and had fun;
- PTA - Thank you for lending us those disco lights. The kids had a blast; and
- Ms. Eva and Ms. Wendy - thank you for coordinating all the events, organizing mother tongue readers, directing traffic, making signages, and making sure regular library classes can still run. They truly are the backbones of the library.

Success for Every Child

Of course, we can't leave out YOU, the parents and caregivers. Thank you for over 80 of you answering to our call out for help to be mother tongue readers, and your support for Book Week. Also, for so many parents giving us such wonderful feedback and compliments. It really motivates our library team.

To help you remember all of our activities, please visit Book Week Page on our KJS Virtual Library or visit our Book Week padlet page if you want to see more highlights of our special week.

Happy Book Week and have a great weekend!

Kind regards,

Ms. Lau

KJS Teacher Librarian
